EANS Summer Conference Call for Abstracts

Nursing Science Shaping Policy and Practice for Healthcare Systems in Challenging Times

Place: OST – Eastern Switzerland University of Applied Sciences, St. Gallen

Date: 8–9 July 2026

Healthcare systems across Europe are facing unprecedented challenges, from workforce shortages and financial constraints to pandemics and climate change. Nursing science plays a key role in shaping resilient, sustainable and evidence-informed responses.

The EANS Summer Conference 2026 invites nurse scientists, doctoral candidates, educators, clinicians, health system leaders and policymakers from across Europe to submit abstracts for oral or poster presentations that address innovation in nursing practice, education, leadership, policy and research in times of disruption and change.

Take this opportunity to:

- Share your research with an international audience
- Contribute to shaping future healthcare policy and practice
- Network with leading experts in nursing science across Europe

Abstract Submission Deadline: 10 April 2026

Notification of Acceptance: 8 May 2026

Join us in St. Gallen and be part of the dialogue driving nursing science forward.
